On behalf of the City of Surrey, I am pleased to support the Canada India Network Society (CINS) and CINI 2014.

CINS plays a significant role in strengthening relationships between the Canadian and Indian business communities. The organization has supported the creation of a synergistic vision of collaboration between our two countries and has an excellent record in sustaining mutually beneficial partnerships.

CINS has been a valuable partner in bringing players together in the Health Technology sector in Surrey. It has helped form many important relationships for business owners and investors. Innovation Boulevard, a network of health institutions, universities, companies and talented professionals located within one square mile in Surrey's City Centre, will continue to benefit from the support of CINS.

Thank you to CINS for bringing like-minded individuals together for the benefit of our communities.

Sincerely,
